| Application Title | Teenage Paparazzo |
| Short Summary | The Sports and Entertainment Law Students Association will host a screening of a documentary entitled, "Teenage Paparazzo." The documentary is a social commentary on pop culture and the effects it has on America's youth. Adrian Grenier is the head of the project and he called on numerous celebrities, attorneys, journalists, producers, and directors in completing the work. A panel consisting of celebrities, attorneys, and journalists will discuss the documentary and provide insight into the implications of the entertainment field. An educational overview will also be provided in addition to the panel by way of CD/DVD that will be available to all graduate programs at ASU. |
| Requested Amount | $2,000 |
