

Assembly Bill #09: Law Students for Social Justice

Application Title	Balancing the Scales of the Criminal Justice System
Short Summary	The working title of the symposium is "Balancing the Scales of the Criminal Justice System". The purpose of the symposium is to foster legal discourse on important legal developments occurring in Arizona. Panelists are academics and professionals who will be addressing state Senate Bill 1070 and House Bill 2525. This event will help launch a new online legal forum operated by the Law Students for Social Justice. ASU professors and law professors are participating in the discussion. Members of the legal community are invited, along with ASU students and law students. This event is essential to the success of the online legal forum and will enhance the educational environment for all students.
